Pinpoint Accelerates Connection for Flood-Threatened Business

Short Term Refuge Provided for Endangered Servers

For Immediate Release

June 28, 2011- As floodwaters threatened the Mid-America Center's Council Bluffs server farm, the Mid-America Center and their IT vendor, Surety Technologies, Inc. were looking for secure location for their servers and they needed to move fast. Pinpoint Network Solutions was able to accommodate Mid-America Center in its data center at the Scott Technology Center in Omaha, and working with Surety, they were able to do so in time to secure Mid-America Center's data.

Brian Tomjack of Surety Technologies said, "Pinpoint Network Solutions stepped up for Surety Technologies when our client, the Mid-America Center, needed a fast solution and reliable location for their server equipment so it could be moved away from an imminent flood threat. When we called Christy Armendariz at Pinpoint, she responded immediately with the information we needed."

Although Pinpoint Network Solutions had not previously offered short-term space in their Omaha Data Center, they arrived at an agreement and went into action fast. The Pinpoint team, in cooperation with Surety Technologies, Inc., worked in concert to prepare space on short notice for the equipment to be placed in their data center.

Tomjack continued, "The rack space and network configurations were ready when we were and the installation of the equipment went very smoothly. We would definitely look to Pinpoint to serve the future needs of our company and clients."

Charles Schilling, General Manager of the Mid-America Center said, “We appreciate Pinpoint Network Solutions willingness to customize a solution to the Mid-America Center’s and Surety’s urgent needs to move our network server off-site with the threat of a potential emergency. This plan executed well. It was done extremely efficiently and with the confidence that the site was secure. Pinpoint’s flexibility and sense of partnership made this an easy decision.”

Christy Armendariz of Pinpoint responded, “Pinpoint strives to provide excellent customer service and we saw a customer in need. We worked hard to come up with a solution that worked for Mid-America Center and Surety during this regional flooding emergency.”
